Hello,

On behalf of everyone at One Identity, a Quest Software business, I would like to sincerely thank you for your order. We appreciate and value your business. Please retain this email as your confirmation of receipt of your purchase.

This email contains license and download instructions for the authorized installation and use of the software specified herein (the "One Identity Software"). You acknowledge and agree that your use of the software is subject to the license and other terms and conditions of the agreement identified in the quotation or order form that you signed for this purchase, or, if no such quotation or order form was signed for this purchase, the Software Transaction Agreement located at https://www.oneidentity.com/legal/sta.aspx (in either case, the "License Agreement"). By the act of installing the software and/or applying the license (either on your own behalf or through your agents), you agree (or re-affirm your agreement to) the terms and conditions of the License Agreement. For the avoidance of doubt, to the extent that One Identity is deemed under applicable law to have accepted an offer by you: (a) One Identity hereby objects to and rejects all additional or inconsistent terms that may be contained in any purchase order or other documentation submitted by you in connection with this order; and (b) One Identity hereby conditions its acceptance on your assent that the terms and conditions of the License Agreement shall exclusively control. If the License Agreement states that Quest Software Inc. or an affiliate of Quest Software Inc. is (i) "Quest", (ii) "Provider", or (iii)"Licensor" under the License Agreement, then for the purposes of the One Identity Software, each occurrence of "Quest", "Provider", or "Licensor" shall be deemed to mean One Identity LLC or, if the One Identity Software is delivered to you outside the US, the applicable non-US One Identity affiliate.
